

Letters to Legislators (LTL) Power of 10 Challenge

LTLX10

The Pocahontas Project (TPP) invites Indigenous Peoples' Day (IPD) supporters across the USA to affect positive social change as an IPD Domino by accepting the Letters to Legislators (LTL) Power of 10 Challenge = LTLX10. This citizen action challenge is met when you send and/or arrange 10 IPD letters to 10 legislators + recruit 10 IPD Dominos (family, friend, colleague) to do likewise, creating the ultimate domino effect. Instead of a chain letter, it is a "change letter" campaign. Bonus civic pride and unity points are available for connecting with folks across the country as IPD is a local, state and national opportunity for positive social change.

LTLX10 >> An easy way to make an important difference with TPP support:

- Customizable IPD letter template for the text of letters to legislators – local, state and national

LTLX10 >> Strengthen your family, your community and your country

- Use LTLX10 as a fun and meaningful way to strengthen family connections – immediate and extended
 - For most families IPD offers an unusual opportunity when everyone is in agreement on a subject of historic and cultural significance, strengthening the fabric of family relationships
- Use LTLX10 to update and strengthen your relationship with friends and colleagues, locally and nationally, as you recruit them to become an IPD Domino
- Embrace the power of civic pride and the good feeling of being purposeful as you play a role in our democratic process and work to affect positive change for the future of our country
 - Enjoy an annual burst of pride every 2nd Monday in October = Indigenous Peoples' Day
- Use the Indigenous Peoples' Day Initiative as a conduit to learn more about the history and culture of America's Indigenous Communities, their plans for the future, and how to support and get involved
